Check out the final page for information on how to submit your own poems and drawings to Kids' Poetry Club!

Activity 1: Musicians

In the episode, you heard a poem that used the wrong names for musicians. For example, a trumpet player isn't called a trumpeteer. Here are some common instruments. Do you know what someone is called who plays each instrument? The answers are on the bottom of page 7.

Instrument #1: Drums

Instrument #2: Organ

Instrument #3: Cello

Instrument #4: Violin

Instrument #5: Flute

Instrument #6: Bass

Instrument #7: Saxophone

Activity 2: Instruments

In this week's episode, we heard about many different types of musical instruments. The Wordsearch below contains 15 hidden instruments. Can you find them all? If you need help, there's a list of the instruments at the bottom of page 7.

Activity 3: A Poem To Read

“Making Money From Music”

First, they put me in the strings with the cellos, violas and other things.

But my bow went up
as others' went down,
and I was easy to spot
as the source of the sound of a lonesome cat
shrieking all of the night, with a scraping that induced such a fearful fright that I was taken off of the violin for making such an awful din.

Next, they tried me in the choir –
not a great decision, it did transpire.

As I sang out loud, and all could see
I had the vocal qualities of a chimpanzee,
and the kids around me
were brought to tears and stuffed their fingers in their ears.

Now, the teacher pays me just enough to be elsewhere and not show up.

Activity 4: Songs as Poems

In this week's episode, Queenie talked about songs whose lyrics can be read out as a poem. Think about the words of your favorite song, and write them in the space below. Then see if they read well as a poem.
